Protection Against The Invisible

Not every danger is visible but that doesn't mean it's not present. Carbon monoxide can't be seen or smelled; that's what makes it such a potent threat. With Shepherd Security & Communications we ensure your facility is covered and in the event carbon monoxide is present our monitoring services will ensure you are informed at the first point of detection. Our solutions are especially critical for facilities where people sleep: dormitories, hotels, nursing homes and assisted living facilities. Regardless of the size or type of commercial building, Shepherd Security & Communications can help everyone escape the dangers of being exposed to carbon monoxide. Our proven solutions and engineered equipment offer you the most stable technology with the quickest response, less nuisance and most importantly; safety to those that could be exposed.
